Rate hikes opposed; audit of utility sought

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Quad-Cityans and others turned out in large numbers at Springfield on Friday to tell the Illinois Commerce Commission they vigorously oppose requested rate hikes for electricity and natural gas.

Granite City aldermen testifying included Sam Whitmer, Warren Decatur and Casmer Skubish, accompanied by City Attorney John Papa and Alderman Everett Morton.

Reading a joint statement by himself and State Senator Sam W. Vadalabene, State Representative Sam W. Wolf told the ICC: "It is time that the commission seek whatever authority is required, including that which can only be given by the legislature, to enable your agency—together with the assistance of the Illinois auditor general's office—to conduct necessary audits and investigations to assure competent utility management and supervision of energy construction projects."

"As a part of this investigation and audit, a determination also should be made as to whether a sufficient power demand exists to justify completion of the Clinton nuclear power plant, together with a request to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission for a recommendation from that agency as to the continuance of the project."

Owen McBride, an Illinois Power Company attorney, outlined facts and opinions that he said justify increasing electric rates by 18.9 percent and natural gas rates by 8.7 percent.

He cited higher operating and capital costs and the financing of Clinton plant construction work, and said adequate revenue is imperative for the provision of desired utility services.

Petition signatures opposing rate hikes were submitted to the ICC and were announced as totaling 9,100 from Granite City and 3,675 from Madison.

William E. Steiner, representing Madison Concerned Citizens, told the commission, "We organized to protect the interest of Madison citizens and then created a committee to oppose the electric and gas rate increase request.

"We assembled these petitions by contacting users of utility services."

"The signers feel that the increases would be disastrous for senior citizens and persons on fixed income."

"We contend that inclusion of funds—for construction work in progress—within the rate base is unjust, uneconomical and inefficient. It runs counter to the regulatory principle of 'used and useful.'"

"Construction costs, which have escalated, and cost over-runs—if included in our rates—will benefit the stockholders. Because of this, the costs should be borne by those reaping the profits."

"In a private enterprise system, private investors reap the benefits of wise investment and sound management, but also should bear the burden of wise investment and mismanagement."

"As Illinois Power users, we bear the burden but are denied the benefits. The charges for construction costs should not be allowed."

Those filing petitions to intervene in the rate case besides Illinois Power and the Madison group were:

Central Illinois Consumer Energy Council; Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner; Roger Willmetts, an attorney representing Scott Air Force Base; the cities of Jacksonville, Peru and Springfield; and the Illinois Public Interest Research Group.

Rep. Wolf outlined in detail the two local state legislators' sharply negative response to the February request for rate hikes. The bills would go into effect in January 1983 if approved by the ICC.

He testified, "As we understand it, this would be a 19.9 percent electric increase and a 8.7 percent gas increase, estimated to generate $200 million a year in additional revenue."

"This would be in addition to the $100 million per year increase granted eight months ago to the same utility. And there is an indication of an additional rate increase request to be filed on or before September 1983."

Rep. Wolf continued, "These increase requests were predicated on the inclusion of more than $75 million in construction costs of a Clinton plant estimated to cost $1.8 billion."

"As of Thursday evening, we are advised that the estimated cost of this project has now been revised upward to $2.17 billion, an increase of $360 million. And the completion date has been moved back to 1984, two years from now."

"We can only assume from yesterday's revelations that an additional rate increase request will not only be filed before September 1983, but that

Burglary charges in GC allege four 'caught in act'

Four persons allegedly were "caught in the act" Thursday night as they sought to commit burglaries in Granite City.

Charges of burglary were filed against Quinn A. Sexton, 20, of 2731 Warren Ave. and Kevin E. Beavin, 17, of 2401 E. 24th St. after they were taken into custody in an attic at Pete and Mary's Tavern, 2409 Lincoln Ave., authorities said.

The two arrests took place after police surrounded the tavern building at 3:25 a.m. Friday.

Burglary and possession of burglar tools were charged in the earlier arrests of Floyd L. Wallace, 38, of 612 Alton Ave., Madison, and Chester L. Hodge Jr., 17, of 1941 Rhodes St., Madison, officials said. They were apprehended at 9:45 p.m. Thursday near the Guarantee Electric Co., 1500 Grand Ave., where it is alleged that a battery was taken from a vehicle and sections of wire were cut from a large roll of wire.

It is contended that an opening was made in a fence around the property, and that bolt cutters were found at the scene.

Wallace was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 10:25 p.m. and then was returned to jail at 11:50 p.m. Thursday.

All four pleaded innocent in court appearances at 4:30 p.m. Friday, and there were transfers to the Madison County jail that evening.

Bonds were set at $50,000 for Wallace and $25,000 each for Hodge, Sexton and Beavin.

Boy, 14, saves GC child's life

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Basic elements of cardiopulmonary resuscitation, learned during a two-week health class at Grigsby Junior High School, proved invaluable to a 14-year-old student and even more priceless to a 12-month-old infant whose life he is credited with saving.

Jeffrey Beasley, an eighth grader at Grigsby, applied the fundamentals of CPR last week to restore breathing to William Werner, 2726 Iowa St.

The incident occurred during Jeffrey's first babysitting job, with the exception of looking after a younger brother, according to his mother, Mrs. John (Betty) Beasley.

Students briefed on Falkland Islands, Mideast trouble spots

The foreign policy class of Granite City High School-South spent its Easter vacation visiting colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D.C. In an effort to learn first-hand about major foreign policy issues, the class spent three days attending foreign policy briefings at the highest levels of government.

Class members felt the timing was excellent in view of the fast-changing current foreign policy issues, including the Mideast and the Falklands.

The Senate Foreign Relations

Committee provided the first briefing. Alan Safran, a member of the committee's research staff, conducted the session in the Foreign Relations Committee hearing room, discussing a wide range of subjects and answering questions on world problems.

Safran commented that the questions asked by the local students indicated a better understanding of world problems than those asked by some members of the press corps in Washington.

The next stop was the State Department.

TWO HURT IN CRASH THURSDAY

David Grounds, 33, of Alton, is placed into an ambulance, in the background, minutes after a head-on collision at 1:10 p.m. Thursday near 4524 Highway 162 east of Route 111. According to the Illinois State Police, the Grounds' auto, pictured on the left, was westbound on Highway 162

State police to install radio tower at SIUE

A lease agreement between the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for location of the Illinois State Police radio communications tower supporting District 11, has been approved by the SIU Board of Trustees.

The 9.3-acre site leased to the department is located in the northwest section of the campus, near the waste treatment plant. Department officials said the tower formerly used by the state police, located near the district office in Maryville, was affected by mine subsidence, and it was necessary to find another site. The old tower has been removed, and police are using other communication systems on a temporary basis.

The lease with SIUE is for a period of 10 years, with options for subsequent five-year renewal periods. As part of the radio transmitting facilities, an emergency electrical generator will be installed by the department and the agreement permits the university to install on the tower the transmitting antenna that supports campus police communications.

University officers said placement of the university's antenna on the tower will improve campus police communications and also will provide emergency power back-up through operation of the department's emergency generating equipment. The agreement does not require the commitment of university resources. A plot of about 30 feet square immediately surrounding the tower will be enclosed by a fence. The remainder of the site area is required for installing guy line supports for the tower, which will be 420 feet high.

SAFETY HONORED. Ed Moore, right, of Ed Moore Construction Co., receives a special accident prevention award from the Southern Illinois Builders Association at that group's annual banquet. Rash of art thefts at SIUE

A rash of art thefts has occurred on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus since the beginning of the year, according to Gerard Edizel, registrar for the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums.

Four pieces of art work have been confirmed as missing, with still more unaccounted for, Edizel said. Among them is a calligraphic expressionist piece by Mark Tobey entitled "An Angle." This work, from the SIUE Permanent Collection, is valued at $725. According to Edizel, it was hanging in an office area which is normally closed during the night. It has been missing since Jan. 13.

A second piece, by Sigmund Abeles, entitled "Self Portrait with a Cap," is missing from Lovejoy Library basement. It has recently begun to increase in value because Abeles has been reviewed favorably by art critics and has had his works published. Completed in 1979, Abeles' "Self Portrait" probably doubled in value over the last three years, Edizel said.

"Evidently, this thief who is systematically stealing the works knows art," stated Edizel. He added that all the works thus far missing are consistently increasing in price.

The third piece, by Will Petersen, was taken from the second floor of the University Center. Petersen is well-known contemporary printmaker. His "In the Woods, a Glow" is valued at $190. He, too, is gaining in recognition, Edizel said.

Also missing is a lithograph by renowned Dutch artist Karel Appel, entitled "Head in Colorful Landscape," currently valued at around $800. According to Edizel, "His works have gained value at an incredible rate."

Due to the recent thefts, Edizel said he is having to take down all accessible art work on the SIUE campus. In total, about 200 works are scheduled to be taken down and will be redisplayed on the walls with a "thief-proof device."

Edizel added, "This is the only university to my knowledge in which valuable art work is displayed so generously. It's too bad there are a few people who feel a need to benefit financially from them."

Each of the missing works has been reported to the Museum Hotline so as to frustrate the thief if an attempt is made to resell the works. Edizel said publicity through the hotline will make it easier to recover stolen art works.

Lazerson shares images of China

Earl Lazerson, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will share his impressions of the People's Republic of China at Wednesday's Dialogue for Senior Citizens. Lazerson, who has made two recent visits to the Orient, will discuss his experiences, emphasizing the Chinese educational systems.

The president was a member of an American delegation of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, which visited the People's Republic in July, 1981. A delegation of Chinese educators and administrators returned the visit in October, selecting SIUE as one of 15 state college and university campuses on the tour.

In March, Lazerson returned for a week's visit in Taiwan as the guest of Hwesson, Chi, minister of education of the Republic of China.

The dialogue meets from 1:30 to 4 p.m. in the Mississippi Room of the University Center. It is part of the continuing series of different speakers and programs each Wednesday afternoon through May, sponsored by the Gerontology Program at SIUE. Admission is free.

Lukens elects; new name for General Steel

Directors of Lukens Inc. last week elected John F. Weaber, 56, currently a senior vice president, to the additional position of chief operating officer of the Lukens Steel Co. Division of Lukens Inc., and named J. A. Van Sant, 51, currently president and chief executive officer of General Steel Industries Inc. (GSI), the St. Louis area firm recently acquired by Lukens Steel Co., a senior vice president of Lukens Inc.

In addition, Van Sant will continue as president and chief executive officer of Lukens General Industries Inc., the new name to be adopted by GSI.

Weaber and Van Sant were elected to their new positions at a reorganization meeting of the board of directors, following the Coatesville, Pa., firm's annual stockholders' meeting.

Stockholders voted at the meeting to change the company's name from Lukens Steel Co. to Lukens Inc.

W. R. Wilson, Lukens' president and chief executive officer, said the name change is representative of the company's growth beyond the steel plate business.

GC man accepts tour guide job

Steve Konkovich, 2602 Dogwood Drive, has accepted the position as a tour director for Presley Tours. The firm's worldwide headquarters are located in Makanda, Ill.

Presley, now 85, founded the successful travel company after he retired at age 52 as a rural mail carrier. He has appeared on numerous nationally-televized programs and his life has been the subject of two books.

Konkovich will lead his first cross-country Presley tour to Disneyland and other areas of California in June, followed by four similar trips planned later this year.

Enroute back to Illinois, the group will stop at Abilene, Kan., and tour the Dwight D. Eisenhower Museum, a familiar locale for the Granite City man.

Konkovich gained national publicity in 1959 when he visited Abilene and found the U.S. flag being flown upside down in front of the boyhood home of President Eisenhower.

His photograph with the "wrong-way" flag initially was published in the Press-Record and then appeared in several other newspapers.

The local man also has been authorized to contact major film studios on the West Coast to promote a proposed movie on the life of Wayman Presley. It was learned.

Concert honors women composers

A concert and exhibition honoring the music of women composers will be presented at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Wednesday, April 21.

The concert is scheduled in Meridian Ballroom in the University Center at 7:30 p.m., with an exhibit highlighting the accomplishments of women in music history open for viewing in the St. Clair Room before and after the concert. The presentation is free and open to the public.

Sponsored by the Women Faculty Association at Illinois State University, "Music of Women Composers: A Piano Recital and Exhibit" is supported by grants from the Illinois Humanities and Illinois Arts Councils. Arrangements to bring the program to the Edwardsville campus were made through the SIUE Women for Women Organization.

"The purpose of the program is to heighten public awareness of the role played by women as musical composers, instrumentalists and conductors, according to the sponsoring organization. Directors of the program state that the performance and exhibit "clarify social and historical forces that caused women's contributions to be publicly neglected and point out the cultural and historical influences on the style of women's musical compositions."

The works of seven women composers, three of whom are living, will be performed and narrated by pianist Elsie Cadieux. Her program of music will include the works of women composers representing the 17th to 20th centuries.

Composers whose works will be performed include Elisabeth de la Guerre (1664-1729), Clara Shumann (1819-1896), Cecile Chaminade (1857-1944), Mrs. H. H. A. Beach (1867-1944), Germaine Tailleferre (1912-present), Peggy Glanville-Hicks (1912-present), and Louise Talma (1906-present).

Elsie Cadieux's career has included top honors in piano compositions, many solo and ensemble recitals, and solo performances with the Minneapolis Symphony, the Civic Orchestra of Minneapolis, and the University of Minnesota Orchestra.

She attended the Berkshire Music Center in Massachusetts as a choral scholar at the University of Minnesota and the MacPhail College of Music in Minneapolis. She holds a master's degree from Illinois State University. For the past 10 years, she has been a member of the piano faculty at the MacPhail Center for the Performing Arts.

HONOR WOMEN COMPOSERS.

Pianist Elsie Cadieux will play the music of women composers in a concert and exhibition at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The performance is free and open to the public.

"Music of Women Composers" has been presented in more than 10 Illinois cities, including Chicago.

The program is scheduled for presentation at the Ottawa Amateur Musical Club in Ottawa on May 2.

Renness, Denise Renness and Mrs. Kenneth (Barbara) Ryan, all of St. Louis, and James Reilly of Los Angeles.

In addition to his wife, children and grandchildren, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Paul (Lorraine) Edwards of Tulsa, Okla. His mother, Grace Barnes Yeaman, died Feb. 14, 1978, in Tulsa.

Widely known as an authority on politics, government and taxation, he covered all types of happenings beginning with "roaring 20s" gangster violence and depression-era bank closings, and was still an active writer on a variety of topics well into the space age.

Mr. Barnes covered Granite City municipal and aldermanic news for a considerable time. He developed extensive files on actions of the former East Side Levee and Sanitary District over a period of years.

He recalled covering three executions at Menard state prison, including that of the only woman electrocuted in Illinois for criminal acts.

Mr. Barnes was on the staff of the Decatur Review until May 1955, when he joined the Decatur Herald. In 1956 he transferred to the East St. Louis Journal, which was owned by the Review-Herald company.

His 15 years there included coverage of crime and political news. For an extended period, he monitored St. Clair County governmental developments centering around the courthouse in Belleville.

Although he was familiar with the most turbulent portion of the history of St. Clair and Madison counties, he at times remained calm, even-tempered and understanding, associates said.

They added, "He was a real friend, liked and respected throughout this community, region and state. Even when beset by ill health in recent months, including several hospital stays, he maintained an active interest in the news and had made plans to resume work on a part-time basis in the coming weeks."

Honors in math, spelling for St. Elizabeth pupils

St. Elizabeth School participated in a Math-A-Thon during March. The theme, "Math Magician" was chosen by St. Jude Children's Research Hospital to encourage the youth of America to recognize and pursue the important science of mathematics while helping children who suffer from incurable diseases.

The students were asked to recruit sponsors (family, friends and neighbors) to pledge donations based on the number of math problems the child attempts. The children at St. Elizabeth's collected $1,117.

Six speech participants received ribbons for their renditions of the speech each presented. Blue ribbons (first place) in the serious category were won by Helen Loftus and Caryl Kubelka; red ribbons (second place) were awarded to Ann Mitchell-humorous, Caryn Kubelka-duet and third place white ribbons were presented to Alice Loftus-humorous and Becky Tritschuh-duet.

The local Knights of Columbus Spelling Bee was held April 4 at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Granite City. Two seventh graders from St. Elizabeth School won awards.

Kubelka, runner-up and Anne Juhász, winner of the trophy. Anne is the first to have won the new trophy, since last year St. Elizabeth School had a third-time trophy winner and the trophy then was awarded to the school permanently.

Both girls advance to the regional Knights of Columbus Bee on April 18.

Activate nuclear monitoring network

Governor James R. Thompson has announced that the nation's first true remote monitoring system began transmitting signals to Springfield last week as part of a two-day emergency preparedness drill at the LaSalle nuclear power station.

"This sophisticated electronic system now in place at LaSalle is the first of a series of such monitoring units scheduled to be installed at all of Illinois' nuclear power plants," Thompson said.

"These devices, linked to the Illinois Department of Nuclear Safety's computerized command center in the state capital via dedicated telephone lines, will enable the state to respond more quickly in the event of an actual incident at a nuclear facility."

IDNS Director Philip F. Gustafson switched on the $2 million remote monitoring system last week at the agency's Springfield headquarters, activating the communications devices which feed data on radiation readings to IDNS' main computers.

House Speaker George Ryan of Kankakee and Representative Ted Meyer of Chicago are sponsors of H.B. 2486, an administration bill to provide fee increases to cover the costs of state nuclear safety programs, including IDNS plans and install RMS components at existing nuclear facilities at Zion, Dresden and Quad Cities (Moline) and at future nuclear plants at Clinton, Braidwood and Byron.

At the LaSalle station, the RMS transmitted information to Springfield while IDNS' emergency response team and other state, federal and local officials participated in a drill involving a mock nuclear accident. The LaSalle plant is still under construction and is not expected to begin operating until fall.

A monitoring system similar to the one at LaSalle is now in place at the nuclear plant in Oyster Creek, N.J., but is a utility-owned system which is not plugged in to a state preparedness network.

Workshops for physics and biology teachers

Sponsored in part by

SIUE, the two workshops will show area biology and physics teachers how they can improve and update the content and instructional techniques of their science courses.

An afternoon teacher exchange will feature SIUE faculty and area high school teachers sharing science teaching methods.

The workshops are free of charge and open to area junior high and secondary teachers. For additional information, interested persons may contact Duane Baden, associate dean for planning, development and administration, at 1-692-3643.

SIUE enrollment rises once again

For the seventh consecutive quarter, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has shown an increase in student enrollment.

According to spring quarter figures released by the Office of Admissions and Records, there are 8,339 students attending classes at the university, compared to 8,265 at the same time last year.

The 3.2 percent increase in enrollment reflects gains in nearly all student categories, with the most significant increase being in the number of new freshmen. There are 156 new freshmen attending the university for the first time this quarter, compared to 155 during the same period last year.

Approximately 43 of the new freshmen entered college early so that they may maintain their Social Security benefits, Eugene Magac, director of admissions and records at the university, said.

Slight increases also have occurred in the number of new students transferring to SIUE from other colleges and in the number of new graduate students.

Increases are apparent among both full-time and part-time students. This quarter there are 6,020 full-time students, last year there were 5,866. Part-time students number 5,119 this quarter; last spring there were 5,069.

The School of Business experienced the biggest increase among the disciplines, with an enrollment of 1,291 during the current quarter, compared to 1,174 during the same period last year.

A breakdown by classes at the undergraduate level shows current enrollment to include 1,781 freshmen, 1,523 sophomores, 1,045 juniors, 2,110 seniors and 104 unclassified students.

The Graduate School reported an enrollment this quarter of 1,764 and there are 210 students in the School of Dental Medicine.

Boy saves

when the youth found William lying face down in the bathtub, which had only a small amount of water covering the bottom of the tub.

Jeffrey had momentarily left the child seated in the middle of the bathroom floor when William's two older brothers, Randy, 5, and Matthew, 2, ran out the front door, slamming it behind them.

Jeffrey was preparing to wash and redress William and had just turned on the bathtub faucet when the two other boys ran outside the dwelling.

The youth "chased" the youngsters, certain that the baby could not reach into the bathtub. He caught them right outside the door and was gone from the bathroom only a moment or two, Jeffrey related.

How William got into the tub is unknown, but he did accomplish it. It is believed he may have managed to climb up and then fell inside the tub.

When discovered in the tub, the baby was unconscious and his fingers and other extremities already had a bluish cast, according to Mrs. Beasley.

In addition to giving William mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, Jeffrey shook the child hard. It was the combination of the two actions that apparently saved the youngster's life, medical authorities said.

William was "doing fine" Friday at Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital, St. Louis, where he was said to be "settling" and "enjoying himself," evidently having suffered no lasting effects from the ordeal.

At the same time that he was trying to give CPR to the child, Jeffrey telephoned the police, gave his name and location, told them of the problem and asked for an ambulance.

He provided all the necessary information to the dispatcher with clarity and precision, and only a minimum precious time was expended, it was learned.

When the ambulance crew arrived, within a minute or so of the call, the baby's eyelids were fluttering and he was gasping for breath.

Emergency medical technicians connected CPR and the child was then placed on inhalation equipment.

William was first taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where his body temperature remained very low and he appeared somewhat unresponsive to treatment, the infant was transferred to Cardinal Glennon Hospital.

At 9:30 the same night, the St. Louis physician looking after William called Jeffrey at home and questioned the boy about what techniques he had used to aid the infant.

The doctor then told Jeffrey that everything the student had done was "letter perfect." The physician said the baby would have died if the 14-year-old had not applied his knowledge to help the child.

The doctor said William was not suffering any ill effects from the incident, but was being kept in the hospital several days for tests, Mrs. Beasley said.

"We are very proud of Jeffrey and so are William's parents," Mrs. Beasley said.

She noted the Werners have said that the next time they need a babysitter, it will most certainly be Jeffrey.

"I'm going to make sure that Jeffrey's 11-year-old brother, Johnny, takes the same class when he goes to Grigsby," Mrs. Beasley remarked.

The Beasley family resides at 2546 Pontoon Road.

ment, where Ambassador in charge of Intelligence and Research Robert Cohen discussed the world situation, with emphasis on El Salvador and the Falkland Islands.

The class questioned the ambassador closely on U.S. policies in the Middle East, nuclear disarmament and the Falklands. The briefing concluded with him complimenting the students on their knowledge of world affairs and the depth of their questions.

An embassy is usually not open to the general public, but the British and West Germans were impressed that high school students were interested in world policy. Each provided a private tour and briefing.

The British Embassy is the largest in Washington. The class was greeted by Counselor Attaché Peter French.

He escorted the students to the Embassy rotunda, where he described the functions of an embassy and reviewed foreign policy problems of the British government.

The Falkland Islands and the British response to the crisis there with Argentina were the focus of many student questions.

Ambassador French indicated that the British are satisfied with the support provided by the Reagan Administration and that they remained confident Argentina would withdraw without a war occurring.

At the West German Embassy, the students were welcomed by Cultural Attaché Heinrich Baumhoff.

Rate hikes

still another request will probably be filed before the 1984 completion date.

"The requests will use, of course, as their basis the new estimated construction cost. Where does it end? More importantly, why is it allowed to continue?"

To quote Chairman Hasten, the ICC has no standard policy of allowing construction work in progress (CWIP) costs in the rate base. But it does allow this on a case-by-case basis.

"It would seem that the general public would be entitled to know the criteria used to determine an allowable capital cost base, as opposed to one not allowable."

"It also would seem that the consumer is contributing a substantial portion of the cost of a capital project in which he has no vested interest and no assurance of any future relief from escalating utility costs.

"Senior citizens, young married couples and, yes, even those with supposedly median incomes are having considerable difficulty in coping with utility bills at their present levels, let alone the levels that would be created by approval of the requests now on file."

"In my district legislative office, I have had call after call from call from persons on fixed incomes, low incomes and those with no income at all, complaining about the excessive utility costs in relation to their total income."

"I have checked out some of the cases and find that monthly utility costs in some areas, especially during winter months, comprise almost 50 percent of the individuals' monthly income.

"I believe you would agree that this represents an extraordinary percentage of the average person's overall cost-of-living requirements."

"Investigation, auditing and a determination of whether the Clinton power plant project should be continued—these procedures should be a prerequisite to any rate increase, either pending or contemplated."

summed up in the statement issued by himself and Sen. Vadala, adding:

"We sincerely hope that the commission will give serious consideration to some of the suggestions that have been given here today and that will be given by others."

The special briefings were arranged by the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois. The senator's staff praised the Granite City students for their interest.

The foreign policy class also visited the Capitol, Arlington National Cemetery, Ford's Theater, the White House and the Smithsonian museums.

The Illinois Supreme Court said Friday the death sentence of a Cook County man, Dennis Williams, and ordered the execution set for Nov. 17. He was convicted of a double murder and rape. This is the third such sentence approved under the state's 1977 death penalty law; the other two are being appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Illinois, Missouri and 14 other states had an unemployment rise of two percentage points or more from February 1981 to February 1982, a new Bureau of Labor Statistics report shows.

The State Legislative Commission said Friday the Illinois Revenue Department is to blame for problems in regulating bingo, having allowed bingo to go far beyond the "church basement type of game."

Legislators intended when legalizing it. The commission is critical of "large bingo palaces" and said there is organized crime involvement in the Chicago area, with many cases of misuse of funds.

The Madison County Board on Wednesday will consider moving the data processing department to the Annex III building.

Board Chairman Nelson Hagener has assailed rumors of layoffs of county personnel but is urging cooperation by financial officials in averting a financial crisis. County employees are being asked to accept less insurance coverage as a way of reducing costs.

As area residents were mailing their income tax returns to meet the Thursday midnight deadline, a mailbox in front of the Granite City Post Office began to overflow at 8:12, necessitating an early visit by Postmaster Jack Wilkins, who had made plans to process all of the returns at midnight.

Southern Illinois University Treasurer R. Dean Isbell, 56, Carbondale, died Thursday in Rochester, Minn. Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw will be the interim treasurer for the board of trustees, at no change in his pay, it was decided at an emergency meeting of the executive committee Friday in Chicago.

TV series studies the media

"It's not difficult to make a case for the pervasiveness of the media. We all know they are there. The striking thing is that we know so little about the ways we shape them and they shape us. The role and impact of mass communications is explored in MEDIA PROBES, an eight-part, half-hour series, premiering Wednesday, April 21 at 8 p.m. on Channel 9," a spokesman said. The series is designed in a magazine format that entertains and informs about photography, song operas, TV news, language, political spots, design, sound and the future. Each half-hour program in the eight-part series is an interplay of documentary, animated and dramatic segments. Celebrity hosts offer analysis and commentary about each subject. To model Cheryl Tiegs, host for "Photography," this Wednesday, the importance of this art form is to "record what we like or fear or long for."

The social impact and appeal of "Soap Operas," (May 5 at 7:30 p.m.) and audience involvement with them, are examined by actress Ruth Warrick. Veterans news anchorman John Cameron Swayze is the host for "TV News," (May 12 at 7:30 p.m.), which probes the ratings war and the colorful packages networks conceive to achieve the top slots in their local markets. Comedian Victor Borge guides a humorous exploration of "Language," (May 12 at 8 p.m.). Then viewers have a chance to see how "Political Spots" are created, with Washington Post columnist Mark Shields (May 19 at 8 p.m.). Fashion designer Bill Bliss, host of "Design," (May 26 at 8 p.m.) shows that every object is fashioned not only to perform a function, but to carry a message.

Steeler tracksters clip Kahoks in dual meet

COLLINSVILLE — It was a victory but the performances were not anything to brag about.

After Granite City North defeated Collinsville 79-67 in a dual track meet Friday afternoon, Harry Lang, North's coach, had thoughts of that nature running through his head.

"The meet after the North vs. South meet is always a letdown. Our performance against Collinsville was really snuff," Lang said. "Our overall performance was down. It's nothing but I'm really worried about it. It was just a mental letdown."

Going into the last three events of the meet, the 200 yard dash, the mile relay and the triple jump, North was trailing Collinsville in team points. But North placed first and second in the two individual events and won the relay to clinch the meet victory.

Double winners for North were seniors Todd George and David Renshaw. George won the 100 meter dash in 11.44 and the 200 meter dash in 24.1. Renshaw placed first in the shot put with a throw of 48'9" and first in the discus with a throw of 151'.

Lang feels Renshaw has established himself as one of the top discus throwers in the area. "The pleasing part is that he appears to be leveling off at the 160 foot level — he's established himself in his consistency," Lang said. "I think it's a just award for a kid who has worked very hard."

Another key performance for North

"Our overall performance was down. It's nothing that I'm worried about. It was just a mental letdown."

Harry Lang
Steeler track coach

was the efforts of sophomore Jim Robertson in the 1600 meter run. Going into the event, North was trailing Collinsville by four points in the team standings.

"I told Jimmy, 'Jimmy, you can't let them go one-two or they'll bury us,'" Lang said.

Robertson took Lang's words to heart. He pulled out a second place finish in the event, only two one-hundredths of a second out of first place.

"I was really proud of Jimmy's courage and guts. He really showed a lot of it," Lang said, adding that Robertson competed against two of the best milers in the area.

Robertson also placed first in the 3200 meter run in 10:32.9. Other North team members who earned first place honors were Bill Schaefer in the 400 meter dash, 57.0; David Davis in the 300 low hurdles, 42.2; Alan Pregel in the triple jump, 38.4; Mark Sweeney in the pole vault, 10'0"; and the mile relay team, Davis Schaefer, John Peters and Joel Hubert, 3:54.9.

Although North's performances did not match the performances in past meets, Lang does not feel it is a problem. "It's just a letdown after the North vs. South meet," Lang said.

Steeler Frosh track results

EDWARDSVILLE — The Granite City North freshmen track team finished seventh in the Edwardsville Freshmen Relays Friday afternoon.

Scott Cant won the high jump, clearing 5'9". He also placed third in the triple jump and fifth in the 70 yard high hurdles.

Placing fifth in the shot put was Lonnie Cook, with a throw of 40'0".

The 3200 meter relay team and the distance medley relay team both finished fourth. Both teams were comprised of the same members, Doug Linbaugh, John Shane, Tom Keelin and Darren Bernaux.

"I thought it was a very good effort on their part. It includes all of the junior high schools from East St. Louis," Harry Lang, North coach said. "That's a premier meet for freshmen. It was a really good competitive effort. They've been good competitors all season."

Lady Steeler Frosh track results

EAST ST. LOUIS — Harry Lang, Granite City North track coach, was pleased with the performances of the freshmen in the East St. Louis Girls' Relays.

Although no team standings were kept for the freshmen division, individual results were compiled. Paula Rozyski won the 70 yard hurdles in 12.42.

Finishing third was the 400 meter relay team of Carla Graham, Emily McWhorter, Rachel Coleman and Miss Rozyski. Lang said the time was less than one second off of the first place time. "If we would have hit our hand offs a little cleaner, we would have walked away with first," Lang said.

The mile relay team, comprised of Miss Rozyski, Miss McWhorter, Miss Coleman and Angie Novosel, placed second.

Two freshmen who competed in the varsity level the shot put also finished eighth and ninth in the varsity standings. Debbie Brand placed eighth with a throw of 90'6" and Sandra Brown placed ninth with a throw of 88'10".

Dupo downs Trojans

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

DUPO — Madison baseball coach John Paskus really didn't care to know how many errors the Trojans made in their 11-1 five-inning loss to Dupo here Friday.

For the record, the Trojans made eight errors in the game. That didn't include the mental errors Madison made either. No wonder Paskus didn't want to know.

"That's the story of the game, the errors," Paskus said. "We made a lot of errors out there, not just physical errors, but mental errors too. We're going to have to work on our fielding this week."

The Trojans' fielding was about as cold as the weather the week before that cost them some valuable practice and games.

"I don't want to use that as an excuse about our making errors," Paskus said about the weather. "It hurt us some. We did work on our hitting and running because I thought we needed work there. We did fine in that area, but we have to work a lot harder on fielding. We're just not aggressive enough."

Madison committed six errors in the fourth and fifth innings. Dupo took advantage of the errors and scored seven runs.

"We definitely took advantage of what they gave us," Dupo coach John Ray said. "They made a lot of physical and mental errors. We played a good game, but we got a lot of help."

"Madison's pitcher (Dave Kaminski) did a good job, but we were able to take advantage of the errors they made behind him. We've been having our problems with mental errors too. You can't help the physical errors, but you can stop the mental errors," Ray said.

Although the Trojans' fielding helped Dupo greatly, Dupo also took advantage of their own strengths to add runs.

"We did a good job of taking advantage of our opportunities," Ray said. "The wind was going out to right field, and some of our hitters were able to hit the ball out there for some good base hits. We made a couple of good fielding plays, and we did the smart things, both offensively and defensively."

Dupo's pitching was also very effective. Winning pitcher Jim Jarvis and reliever Jeff Harres held the Trojans to just four hits. Jarvis had five strikeouts.

All things considered, Kaminski did well in a losing effort. Dupo got eight hits off the Madison hurler, but the errors hurt Kaminski more than the hits did.

"He's been pitching pretty well," Paskus said, "and I thought he pitched a pretty good game today. We're just not playing good defense behind him."

Ironically, Madison scored its only run because of a pair of errors in the fifth inning. McMillon reached on an error, and Kaminski hit a single, and an error allowed McMillon to score.

Kaminski was 2-for-3 with his single and a first inning triple.

Livingston defeated Madison 8-1 Thursday. That defeat came much the same way as Friday's.

Errors cost the Trojans that game as well along with lack of hitting production.

SHORT GAME — Madison Trojan pitcher Dave Kaminski tries to convince home plate umpire into allowing the Trojans game with Dupo Friday to continue even though Dupo took an 11-

Warriors pick up victory

GRANITE CITY — With a victory over Triad Friday, and another apparent victory over Cahokia Thursday, the Warriors netters have reached the 333 mark.

Less than a week ago the Warriors were winless at 0-6. Since then Roxana, Cahokia and Triad have fallen to the Warrior netters.

Even Friday's brisk southerly winds didn't keep the Warriors from their appointed round with victory as they defeated Triad three games to two.

South's first singles player, John Menendez easily disposed of Knight singles so far this year, Menendez is seven and one.

Matt Sheridan, South's number two singles player, had a more difficult time with Triad's Roy Mullinix but still managed the Warriors' second victory, winning 6-3, 6-4. The victory puts Sheridan's record at eight and one so far this season.

Triad's Mike Rogier managed Triad's first victory of the afternoon as he defeated South's Brian Sparks 6-3, 6-1 in third singles action.

In doubles action, Charlie Miles and Kevin Dickerson teamed to defeat Triad's Scott Rothschild and Steve Hildebeck 6-4, 6-0. The victory is Miles' and Dickerson's second straight.

In another doubles match, Triad's Jay Aylerwoods and Jeff Paul roared back to defeat Don Kalmayer and Rich Schierling 7-5, 7-4, 6-2 to win.

"It was a good match. I'm obviously very pleased with the guys," said Warrior netter coach Rich Harmon.

Granite South Warriors

Harmon obviously had reason to be happy. The previous day in a pairing against Cahokia, the Warriors were well on their way to another victory before rain postponed play.

"When the rains came we had already won three matches and were leading another two. The only way we can lose is if a couple of our guys break their legs," Harmon said.

The pairing will be continued on April 27, when the Warriors travel to Cahokia's home courts.

Menendez defeated Cahokia's Scott Westbrook 6-4, 6-0 in the first singles match, and Matt Sheridan annihilated Chuck Bonning in straight sets 6-0, 6-0. Brian Sparks was leading Cahokia's Jimmy Zarlingo in the third singles match 6-1, 4-4 before the rains fell.

In third doubles, South's Don Kalmayer and Tom Hitt were also leading Cahokia's Tim Sullens and Scott Myers 6-0 and 5-3 in the second set before the rains.

YMCA Soccer changes to Quad-City

Granite City — At an April 6th meeting of the YMCA Soccer Association, the organization approved a recommendation to change its name to the Quad-City Soccer Association.

The change resulted from a request of the Tri-City YMCA that the soccer association not use "YMCA" in its name. The reason for the change resulted from funding purposes.

Persons inquiring about Quad-City soccer may call the organization's new number at 877-1282.

Trojans, Trojanette tracksters finish third

MADISON — Both Madison's boys and girls track teams finished third in their triangular meets with Collinsville and Wealin (Trenton) Wednesday. A few individuals sparkled for Madison, but not enough to please either boys coach Charles Steptoe or girls coach Luvenia Long. Both squads have had problems with personnel this year.

"We've had a few guys who weren't there for some reason. The guys who were there did a pretty good job. Right now, we've got a case of spring fever," Steptoe said.

"Some of our times weren't as good as we wanted," Mrs. Long said. "We had some personal things that kept us out of the 800 and 1600 meter relay which we could have won. And when we won, we won by so much that we ran to the level of our competition. The times we had there aren't good enough to place in the big meet."

The boys, Madison's 400 relay, Charles Fuller, Leroy Latham, A.C. Ware and Shawn Brown, won the event in 46.55 seconds. Fuller won the 200 meters in 24.46 seconds. John Lewis won the triple jump with a leap of 39'4 1/2" and the high jump with a jump of 6'2".

Madison's 3200 meter relay, Steven Ball, Leroy Latham, Santos Howard and Rodney Gary was second in that event as the 800 relay team of Ware, Leonard, Fuller and Brown, Lewis in the long jump.

"I was pleased with the way a couple of our relays performed. Fuller had a good run in the 400," Steptoe said. "Lewis is staying pretty close to his 6-foot-4 jump he had at the Mineral Area meet." The girls had just four first place finishes. Regina Banks won the 100 and 300 low hurdles. Leonora Williams jumped 4-foot-4 to win the high jump, and the 400 relay team, Rose Clay, Jovanna Dillon, Charrie Ware and Jerri Ann Ware won that event in 54.7 seconds, the best time for the Trojanette's relay this year.

"Our girls haven't reached a stable point yet," Mrs. Long said. "We don't know what's going to happen with the girls yet."

"I still think we can win some more dual and triangular meet this year. The 400 meter relay ran a good time considering we were running on our track," Mrs. Long said.

Madison's boys team also had its triangular track meet with Wood River and Chris Memorial at Bethalto postponed Thursday because of rain. "I was encouraged with the way we were running before the rain came," Steptoe said about Thursday's aborted meet.

Zarr signs letter of intent, named all-star

MADISON — The past week was a banner week for Mark Zarr, the 6-foot-4 center for Madison's basketball team the past two seasons.

Zarr, a senior, not only signed his national letter of intent to play basketball for the University of Missouri-Rolla Thursday, but he was also named to the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association Class A South all-star team.

He will play for the South team in the IBCA's all-star game June 26 at the Peoria Civic Center.

During his senior year, Zarr averaged 15.5 points a game and the Trojans' top rebounder. The Class A South all-star team included many Metro-East athletes. Tyrone Jackson and Todd Porter of Class AA, champion East St. Louis Lincoln, Paul Schaefer of Edwardsville, Jim McConkey of Collinsville and Dave Mochorst of Belleville East were all named to the team.

Alternates for the Class A South team include Joe Hurst of Belleville East, Adam Johnson and Mike Huff of Bunker Hill.

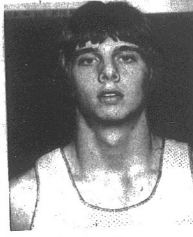

Former Centralia coach Bill Davies was named honorary coach of the South team, and Ron Ferguson, Bradley University athletic director, was named the honorary coach of the North team.

Ned Seymour of Franklin will coach the South Class A team, Warner Hamerton of Peoria Richwoods will coach the South Class AA team.

Thunderstorm postpones Steeler baseball game

GRANITE CITY — In Thursday's Steeler baseball game against Alhoff, both teams relinquished victories to common foe — Mother Nature.

In the top of the fourth inning with Alhoff leading 5-4, Mother Nature once again intervened into sports, via a thunderstorm.

Because the game had not reached the fifth inning, it doesn't constitute a whole game. It has been rescheduled for May 3.

"It's very discouraging to have these games cancelled," said Bob Stegemeier, North's baseball coach. "It seems as though it's nice when we practice, but when we've got the games the weather prevails."

The Steelers will take on Cahokia this afternoon in Cahokia at 4 p.m., weather permitting.

Seminar on cooperation by schools, social agencies

A professional workshop to discuss the common concerns between schools and social service agencies is scheduled Thursday, April 22, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The conference is aimed at helping schools and agencies in Southwestern Illinois know more about one another, according to Stefan Krechlak, SIUE education professor and workshop coordinator. It is sponsored by the department of educational administration and instructional technology at SIUE.

"School administrators, counselors, social workers and law enforcement officers don't always understand each other's problems and constraints,"

Harrell earns graduate award

The Graduate School of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has announced the recipients of the 1982-83 academic year Competitive Graduate Awards, according to Floyd Coleman, associate dean of the school.

The awards, are intended to recognize and encourage those students who have shown outstanding potential as revealed through past academic records, letters of recommendation, and other evidence of outstanding achievements. Coleman said.

The Competitive Graduate Award carries with it a stipend of $400 per month and a remission of tuition and some fees for the nine-month academic year beginning in September.

Among the 25 awardees is Harry Harrell of Madison.

Krechlak said. "In Madison County alone, there are 130 social service agencies, and schools often don't know where to go for help. Both groups need to increase understanding and appreciation for one another by exchanging ideas," he said.

The program consists of presentations from professionals in mental health, law enforcement and children and family services who will look at agency responsibilities, "Reagreements" and ways to increase cooperation.

Topics will range from child abuse, delinquency prevention and counseling to back-to-school transitions, treatment programs and inter-agency cooperation. The speakers also will invite questions and participation from the audience.

The workshop meets from 9:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the Red Bud Room of the University Center. Registration is $7, which includes lunch. Additional information is available from Gary L. Hull, chairman of educational administration and instructional technology, Box 126, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill., 62026, or telephone 1-602-2576.

NOTICE TO APPEAR

Nancy and the duo, Michele Isam and Carol Schmidt, will perform from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday, April 21, in the theater at Belleville area College, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

Nancy Margulies accompanies Jasmine's material, a jazz-pop sound that reflects the influence of the 1960's rock and roll, early Motown soul and a variety of musical styles of the 1940's, with non-stop energy and enthusiasm.

Her hands spell out and mime the lyrics, scoring high notes and plunging low notes. She uses her entire body and imagination to communicate the exact mood and rhythm of the song.

Even for the hearing, Margulies adds to the performance. For the deaf, she helps them to feel as comfortable as possible.

Dance company plan for May 2 SIUE performance

Mid America Dance Company, under the artistic direction of Elaine Wiltz and Ross Winter, will present a concert at 7:15 p.m. Sunday, May 2, in the Communications Building Theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Having completed a 40-week season of performances and residences throughout the Midwest, the company returns to its Missouri-Illinois home base for final concert performances.

The program for this concert, choreographically rich and diverse, will feature dances by Wiltz and Winter. Elaine Wiltz, a native of New Orleans, received her bachelor of arts degree in choreographic design from the University of Southwestern Louisiana and his master of fine arts in choreography and performance from the University of Wisconsin. He has been director of dance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville since 1968, where he has recently been named artist-in-residence.

Three dances by Wiltz will be performed at this concert: "Unfettered Pastimes," a playful assortment of dance routines sketched in 1970; "Vitalis," an abstract modern dance; and his new work "Mozart," a colorful, swing, joyous dance to a Mozart score for the entire company. "Mozart" was premiered in St. Louis in December at Powell Symphony Hall.

Ross Winter, trained and performed professionally in his native country of Australia and later in England, has a degree in architecture and choreographic credits that include several London dance productions and the Edinburgh Festival in Scotland.

The company will perform two works by Winter. "Pretty Foolies," an earthy romp through a rustic Renaissance landscape, and his new work "Mandolin," a sparkling quartet to Antonio Vivaldi's concerto for two mandolins, premiered in December at the St. Louis Art Museum.

Mid America Dance Company dancers are Bridget Dickinson, Linda Grimme, Jon Manlove, Joseph Mills, Michael Richardson, Lorilee Sautier, Elizabeth Scoggins and Wiltz.

The company is a member of the Arts and Education Council of Greater St. Louis, the Mid-America Dance Network, the National Association for Regional Ballet and Dance St. Louis. This concert is sponsored by the Metropolitan East Business Alliance for the Arts and is partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency.

Tickets are $5 and $3 for students and senior citizens. They are available at the Theater box office, 692-2329. Tickets also will be available at the door prior to the performance.

SIUE offers seminar in office technology

The Center for Management Studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a three-day seminar on improving office productivity through word processing, office technology and simplification April 20 to 22 in Room 3335 of Classroom Building III, from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. each day. Registration is $275.

Topics to be considered include the integration of the new office technology into the emerging office; telecommunications, electronic mail, dictation and transcription systems; word processing systems; reprographics equipment; organization of office and information procedures, and layout, procedures, and forms analysis.

"Many firms are turning their attention to office costs and productivity as an important means of increasing firm profits," said Robert A. Schultheis, professor of business education and administrative services in the SIUE School of Business.

"Two strategies which have proved useful in lowering costs are the application of word processing and other office technology to office work and the improvement of office work flow," he said. The purpose of the seminar is to help participants understand how these strategies may be employed to improve their offices and reduce costs.

A two-day seminar providing a variety of instructional techniques on word processing will be held May 11 and 12. Additional information on either of the seminars may be obtained by contacting the School of Business at 1-692-3668.

$20.5 million in Circuit Breaker grants issued

The Illinois Department of Revenue reports that Circuit Breaker tax relief grants are currently being issued at a rate of approximately $20.5 million a week.

Revenue Director J. Thomas Johnson said that nearly $2,000 checks totaling approximately $20.5 million have been issued so far this year. Applications are being processed and grants issued as quickly as possible.

HUSBAND RE-ENLISTS IN U.S. ARMY

Specialist Fifth Class Gregory A. Kowalski, son of Henry O. Kowalski of Westland, Mich., and Linda E. Pritz of Ypsilanti, Mich., has re-enlisted in the U.S. Army at Fort Campbell, Ky., for an additional four years military service.

Kowalski, a stock control specialist with the 101st Airborne Division, is a 1976 graduate of Cherry Hill High School, Inkster, Mich. His wife, Kimberly, is the daughter of Mrs. Esther Newton, 2416 Edwards St.

Johnson said. He urged persons who have not yet heard from the department to be patient. "They should be receiving their checks or some communication from the department soon," he said.

Legislative changes in the Circuit Breaker program as well as implementation of new systems to confirm data submitted by applicants had delayed the first checks somewhat, Johnson noted. However, he added, the new systems are not in place and checks are being issued.

Circuit breaker is a tax relief program for senior and disabled citizens. It pays up to $700 for property taxes paid by qualified citizens plus a flat grant of $80.

An estimated 380,000 senior and disabled households received one or both of these grants last year. To qualify, a person must be 65 years-of-age or older with a total household income under $12,000, or be totally disabled according to criteria of the Social Security Administration. Qualified individuals have until Dec. 31, 1983, to file applications for grants this year.

Back to telly for Savalas?

By JACK MARTIN

HOLLYWOOD — Those forever recurring rumors about reviving "Kojak" as a weekly show are with us again. But this time, for some reason, Telly Savalas seems to be serious about bringing back the show that was so popular several seasons ago.

Telly, you may recall, deserted the series in order to become a major movie star. Well, he didn't even manage to make it to minor movie star and now the offers aren't rolling in as fast as they did four years ago. So it's back to the lollipop-lickin' police lieutenant that made him a household name in the first place.

And now, esteemed playwright Abby Mann, who created the Emmy Award-winning TV movie "Marcus Nelson Murders," on which the "Kojak" series was based, says he's interested in working on the show again, "if they can give it the look and vitality I want."

Mann feels that if "Kojak" can come back with the integrity and quality of the first season of shows, it can be a big hit all over again. And, of course, if Telly will agree to return. Which, I am assured, he will. Stay tuned.

A pair of show-business veterans aren't feeling as chipper as they might. Gloria Swanson, 83-year-old evergreen of both silent and talking pictures, is said to be thinking of finally throwing in the towel and entering a retirement home in California.

Ditto Irene Dunne, the darling of all those '30s and '40s sophisticated comedies. Dunne, now 82, wants to spend the remainder of her days in the Motion Picture Country home where her old pal Norma Shearer is now a permanent resident.

Back to Broadway: Anthony Quinn, who hasn't been seen on the legitimate stage since he co-starred with the late Margaret Leighton in "Tchin-Tchin," 19 years ago, will star in a stage musical based on the life of writer Ernest Hemingway.

The show is being written by Edmond North who won an Oscar for his "Patton" screenplay and will be produced by Gladys M. Rackmil, ex-wife of former Universal Pictures prexy Milton Rackmil.

Who will play Hemingway's wife, Mary, is as yet uncast, but whoever she may be, take warning! Quinn always falls in love with his leading ladies. Or is it vice versa?

Wedding Bells: And it's about time. Sex goddess Ursula Andress and actor Harry Hamlin, parents of a 2-year-old son, are planning to marry. The 46-year-old Swiss actress has arrived in Hollywood from her home in Rome and says her young son "has reached the age where he needs a full-time father."

Until now papa Harry has been jettin' back and forth to Europe to see his son. The handsome star of 20th Century-Fox's current and controversial movie hit "Making Love" is telling pals that he and Ursula will marry sometime before summer and are looking around for a house to buy in Beverly Hills.

Another wedding in the works is that of Ryan O'Neal and Farrah Fawcett who are right this minute in Venice having a "pre-honeymoon honeymoon," accompanied by Ryan's daughter, actress Tatum O'Neal. Ryan and Farrah (they've been living together for almost two years now) will officially "do the deed" just as soon as her divorce from Lee Majors is final later this month. Ryan has been married twice before — to actresses Leigh Taylor-Young and Joanna Moore.

Gold Diggers Beware: The once-penniless Theo Roubanis, a Greek merchant seaman who rose to marry Winston Churchill's granddaughter Lady Sarah Spencer-Churchill, has failed in his attempt to make himself a millionaire at her expense. Roubanis, who cheekily wed again before making a claim on his ex-wife's extensive estates, hoped to establish himself in the style to which he had become accustomed through California's generous property laws. Lady Sarah's fortune, apart from her bank balance, extends to million-dollar homes in Greece, Beverly Hills, and Jamaica, plus a proverbial king's ransom in silver and paintings.

But in a court case Roubanis got just $150,000 — the least he could have expected — and he is being forced by the courts to return Churchill family heirlooms he took away during their 13-year marriage.

Add to this his pathetic statement that Lady Sarah painted him as a "gigolo" and you have one very sorry Greek. Ah, the wages of sin as they say.
